Golf Rules

The official Rules of Golf are divided into major categories that cover:

Player conduct

Equipment

Specific area of the course, and

Formats of play

The Game, Player Conduct, and the Rules:

Covers the spirit of the game, expectations for behavior, and general penalty levels (1-stroke, 2-stroke/loss of hole, or disqualification)

The Course and Specific Areas:

Defines the five main parts of a course – the teeing area, penalty areas, bunkers, putting greens and the general area.

Competitions:

Outline tournament formats, such as match play and stroke play, as well as Stableford and team play.

Equipment:

Governs what a player can use, famously restricting players to a maximum of 14 clubs in their bags.

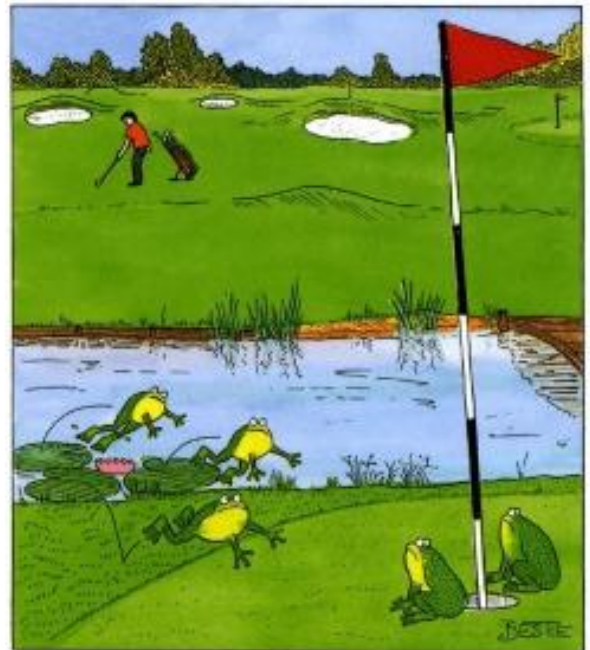

Playing the Round and a Hole:

Rules on starting times, searching for lost balls (with a 3 minute limit), and order of play.

Resolving issues:

Explains how to handle rules questions on the course and rulings by a referee or committee.
